OPERATIONS RESUMED MONDAY AT ECLIPSE MINE AT ROSCOE

New Tipple, Which is One of Finest in World, is Put Into Use

MINE CLOSED FOUR MONTHS

Is Starting Now With 400 Men at
The Outset—Mining Conditions
Improving Greatly in the Monongahela Valley.

Employing at the outset 400 men, the Eclipse mine of the Pittsburg Coal company at Roscoe resumed operations Monday morning for an indefinite run. The mine for the first time will use this week its newly erected steel tipple, considered one of the best in the Monongahela, which of course means one of the best in the world.

The mine has been closed down for four months, owing to the poor conditions. Previous to that time for months the mine ran poorly. Meanwhile work on the tipple continued to put it in shape for operation early this summer.

The Eclipse mine is one of the larger mines the Roscoe neighborhood. It ships by river and its output is heavy.

Conditions in the mining world are constantly improving now, and the Monongahela valley is feeling the effect of the wave of prosperity.

BIG EVENTS THIS WEEK AT THE BEACH

Exhibition to be Given Thursday by Swoger's "Water Babies" and Gala Day to be Celebrated
On Saturday

Two big events are to take place at the Charleroi Bathing beach this week, the first to be that of the appearance of Swoger's "Water Babies," of Brownsville on Thursday and the second to be that of the gala day events for the benefit of the beach on Saturday afternoon. The "Water Babies" will appear to give a free exhibition and the beach celebration will be held in order to raise funds for the benefit of the beach as well as to give an opportunity to local swimmers to show their ability.

The program for the "Water Babies" exhibition will consist of swimming and diving "stunts" by children ranging in ages from 5 to 16 years. Some of the most unusual sorts of things will be done by the children in the water showing their wonderful accomplishments. Jacob Swoger, the trainer of the children, is in charge of swimming and athletic work in the vicinity of Brownsville and has developed a wonderful skill among his charges.

On Saturday not only will a gala day be celebrated at the beach by carrying out a specially arranged program of swimming and diving contests, but also a tag day will be observed. From the proceeds derived in this tag day it is proposed that a substantial wall be built this fall or winter about the Charleroi skating pond.

INSTRUCTION BOOKLET TO ASSESSORS ISSUED

County Commissioners Tell Value of Equality Throughout County in Publication—This Assessment More Difficult Than Others.

The county commissioners are sending out a small booklet of instructions to assessors for the triennial assessment for 1916, work on which will shortly be commenced by the various assessors. The following subjects are discussed and explained: Classes of property, fixing valuations, occupation assessments, schedule of occupations, personal property, real estate, life estates, farm lands, lot plans, exempt property, properties entitled to exemption, public service corporations, adjoining districts, coal lands and improvements, how to determine values, assessing lot plans, opinions of value, mortgages, judgments, bank deposits, etc., and dog licenses, together with general instructions in the preparation of the books.

Assessors are requested by the commissioners to make as early a return of their assessment as is possible. Under no circumstances will any delay in the work be permitted and the provisions of the act of assembly, printed in the assessors' books governing the completion of the assessment will be strictly enforced. In the matter of fixing valuations the assessors will be governed by the conditions and obligations of their oath of office, and attention is called to the fact that the assessments must not only be just but equal in comparison with each other.

The commissioners believe that with this book of instructions in the hands of each assessor before the conference of assessors is held on the 20th of this month, they will be better informed as to the subjects to be taken up and in a position to ask questions intelligently and better familiarize themselves with the work. The commissioners recognize the fact that the next triennial assessment will be a more difficult one to make than any for many years, and they expect to cooperate with the assessors in every way possible in an endeavor to secure an equitable determination of values.

WEDDING TODAY AT BRIDE'S HOME

Ceremony Unites Lives of Miss Mary Richardson
And Walter Chalfant

ABSENT NOW ON HONEYMOON

In the presence of a few intimate friends and immediate relatives the marriage of Miss Mary H. Richardson, daughter of Thomas Richardson formerly of Charleroi and now of Long Branch to Walter W. Chalfant of Long Branch was solemnized this morning at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's brother, William Richardson.

The ceremony took place in the prettily decorated parlor of the Richardson home. Rev. Harry M. Chalfant of Philadelphia, brother of the groom, being the officiating clergyman. The ring ceremony was used. For the march to the improvised altar, Mrs. Neal played Lobengrin's wedding march. Nieces of the bride, Misses Edith and Lottie Richardson sang "O Promise Me."

Following the ceremony the bride and groom were motored to the train to leave for a bridal tour to Chautauqua lake, Niagara Falls and Toronto, Canada.

Both bride and groom are members of well known families. The groom is one of the prominent farmers of the Long Branch section and is prominent in the business and political life of that community. The bride was formerly connected with

Will be in Shape to Command Entire Trade—Local Counties Order Heavy

GERMANS UNABLE TO SHIP

Famous Toy Making Country Tied
Up Too Much With Affairs of War.
And English Blockade Seems to Effectually Stop Shipments.

While his season of the year is still several months away, old Santa Claus has placed some merchants in a quandry, and generally has caused people wonder about the outcome of the importation of German-made toys to the United States. Few toys are now being manufactured in Germany and if they were the English blockade would effectually prevent them being shipped into this country. Consequently it is feared that $50,000 to $75,000 worth of toys ordered for the Christmas season this year from German factories will be entirely unavailable for merchants of the United States.

The toy season will soon be here, for merchants are forced to do their buying early in order to command prompt shipment when needed in November or the first of December. Heavy orders as usual have been placed by merchants in Washington, Fayette and Westmoreland counties, but now it begins to look as though orders would have to be replaced with American-made toys.

Germany has been in the past the greatest toy manufacturing country in the world and the loss in some circles will be rather keenly felt. However, like in other respects the United States manufacturers have been busy, with the result that home-made goods this year will be supplied at Christmas time the same as at other periods of the year. Every effort will be made to supply the entire toy trade by the home manufacturers.

One Charleroi merchant laughed when asked about the German loss. "It is no loss," he said, "for the American made brand is just as good and is available. Now is the time to turn to home products."

Admitting that she sold liquor to support her four little children since her husband has been serving in the Italian army and she had no other means of earning a livelihood, Mrs. Frances DeGettes of McGovern was sentenced to spend three months in jail and pay a fine of $500.

The couple will be absent on their honeymoon about two weeks and upon their return they will go to house-keeping in Long Branch borough.

SHOULD ACCEPT PART RISK

Like others, Goodloe H. Thomas of the Monessen Friday Evening Call is of the opinion that the chautauqua, similar to that recently ended in Charleroi, should accept part of the risk. Editor Thomas says:

Should the chances of a deficit such as has just been met be repeated? In considering this question, citizens and business men will have to decide whether the chautauqua bears a profit—a profit which is not merely in dollars and cents. And certainly there will be acquiescence in most quarters that there is such a balance on the books in favor of culture, high ideals and education.

This being true, some sacrifice will be granted worthy of the cause for which the chautauqua stands. But the angle which slightly changes this view is that the chautauqua promoters also have a right to take part of the risk. They are no different from any other strictly commercial venture in that respect. Every business takes a risk. The Redpath-Brockway Chautauqua company is in the business to make money. Surely it does not expect to pursue its calling without the element of uncertainty attendant upon all other legitimate enterprises.

The people want the chautauqua people to meet them half way—that's all. They have a good article and this community needs their goods. Another year will see an increase of support, just as there was an advance over the previous year in patronage. By co-operation between promoters and local interests the chautauqua should come again, but the feeling among the great number of guarantors is that financial responsibility should be assumed on each side. The plan, as it turned out, of supplying public entertainment by subscriptions of a few, may be very beautiful and idealistic in theory, but when put into practice it does not appeal to the average business mind, grounded on modern commercial principles. The chautauqua organizations, with their huge interests at stake, should certainly be able to work out a plan whereby their profit will not cease while placing their yearly visit upon a steady business basis.

PENROSE PROMISES RELIEF

Senator Penrose has announced that immediately upon the reassembling of congress he will introduce on the senate side a new tariff bill which he believes absolutely necessary to relieve the industrial strain and to restore business confidence not only in Pennsylvania but in every state in the union.

Senator Penrose says that his effort will be to strike a deadly blow at the near free trade legislation of the Democrats and at the same time to reduce in many instances the tariff requirements of the Dingley bill, repealed by the strong arm methods of the Democrats in congress. He proposes at the earliest possible time to relieve the oppression and revivify features of the Democratic tariff legislation.

So-called "war orders" have brought prosperity in spots to certain sections of Pennsylvania and other states where munitions of war are manufactured, but the large manufacturers are far from being overwhelmed by that prosperity. So long as the foreign war continues Pennsylvania and other states manufacturing munitions of war will have spotted prosperity but when the battling European nations have satisfied their murderous nature even the spotted prosperity will vanish and democracy's incomplete victory at tariff legislation will be exposed in all its nakedness.

How to induce people to attend church on hot summer Sundays is a hard problem pastors face. As a possible winner why don't they try the boiling down of an hour's sermon to fifteen minutes, and make that lively. The man who can preach a good sermon in one hour can preach a better one in fifteen minutes.

The auto driver who insists upon his drunk is being harder hit than ever. This is from the Altoona Tribune: "Let it be this and other counties against the drunken chauffeur is developing in a very gratifying manner. Most of the perils of the road come from the reckless driver who has just enough alcohol in him to make him dangerous."

The Lost Auto.
Lying one day 'neath the auto,
Sweating and soaked with oil;
I worked at a cranky engine
And my only reward was toil.

My patience gave out on that engine,
With hammer I hit it a thump
That jarred loose some thingamajinkus,
And started it up at a jump.

Before one could twinkle an eyelid,
Before there was time for surprise,
That car tore away down the highway,
And I lay glaring up at the skies.

I sprang up and madly I followed,
But soon gave it up in disgust,
For that runaway car quickly vanished
In a thick snorting cyclone of dust.

Perhaps in some future existence,
In worlds far beyond mortals ken,
I shall once more make search for
that auto,

But I doubt if I find it then.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Rear admiral Fletcher, during the maneuvers off Newport told a story at a garden party.

"The navy is as ostentatious from ethical reasons," he began, "as old Stingee was from miserliness."

"Old Stingee was entertaining a boyhood friend one evening at his shore cottage. After a couple of hours of dry talk, the old fellow said gaily:

"Would you like some refreshment—a cooling draught, say—George?"

"Why, yes; I don't care if I do," said George and he passed his hand across his mouth and brightened up wonderfully.

"Good," said old Stingee. "I'll just open this window. There's a fine sea breeze blowing."—Detroit Free Press.

"Before I agree to undertake your defense," said the lawyer, "you will have to tell me the whole truth. Did you embezzle the $500 you are accused of having taken?"

"Yes, sir," replied the accused man. "I'll not attempt to conceal the fact from you. I stole every penny of it."

"How much of it have you still?" "It's all gone out $15."

"Young man," said the lawyer, "you had better plead guilty and throw yourself on the mercy of the court."

"I'll do it if you say so, sir. What are you going to charge me for this advice?"

"Fifty-dollar," replied the lawyer.—New York Evening Journal.

PARENTS PUZZLED OVER DISAPPEARANCE OF GIRL

Parents of 16-year old Annie Meinerk of Monessen are puzzled as to her whereabouts. Monday the girl was seen looking over want ads of a Pittsburg newspaper and later she appeared in a white dress and left her home, saying she was going to look for work. She failed to return and much anxiety has been felt. The girl formerly was employed in a doctor's office at Monessen, but lately has been doing work at home.

Lime Starvation Causes Tuberculosis

The Medical Record (New York) of December 15, 1909, contains an article on "The Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis, Based on the Assumption That the Dietetic Cause of the Disease is Lime Starvation," by Dr. John F. Russell, who says: "The condition which is recognized as preceding the active development of tuberculosis in the adult may be considered as due to lime starvation. . . . Among inorganic substances lime salts appear to be of special physiological importance. . . . but if the salts are not in organic combination it is difficult to suppose that the cells can appropriate them for food." Years of widespread use confirm us in the belief that the success of Eckman's Alternative in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) and chronic throat and bronchial troubles is due in large measure to its content of lime, so combined with other ingredients as to be easily appropriated by the cells. Doubtless this has had much to do with the results obtained in many cases of these affections, which appear to have yielded to Eckman's Alternative. As it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, it is safe to try. Your druggist will order it for you or you can send direct. Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia.

TWO years ago last January, the Jeffery Company announced the Jeffery Four at $1550—the first automobile of its quality to sell below $2000.

This will be remembered as the car which introduced the high-speed, high-efficiency motor into this country. Its remarkable service record in the hands of thousands of owners has established it as the standard American automobile of quality and moderate cost.

The Jeffery Company now presents the new Jeffery Four—larger than last year—roomier—lighter in weight—more powerful—easier riding—and with the famous Chesterfield body—a finer car in every respect than the original Jeffery Four—a car combining economical operating and maintenance cost with a road performance which ranks with that of the biggest, highest priced automobiles—at a price of $1035! Without the auxiliary seats, $1000!

In announcing this car, it is not the purpose of the Jeffery Company to meet temporary price conditions, nor to compromise with an imagined desire on the part of dealers and the public for cheapness. On the contrary it is the aim and determination of the Jeffery Company to establish the Jeffery Four as a standard car at a standard price—a car which discriminating buyers can drive for a number of seasons without suffering the marked depreciation which has been such an unfortunate feature of the automobile business.

The new Jeffery Four is a quality automobile in every sense of the word—built to maintain and increase the enviable reputation of the original Jeffery Four.

The Jeffery Six

The same specifications as the famous Jeffery Chesterfield Six—silent worm drive, Lanchester cantilever spring suspension and other quality features found elsewhere on only high-priced foreign cars—refined to an even smoother, quieter operation than ever—price $1350 F.O.B. Kenosha—$300 lower in price than last year.

cur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, exceeded seven per centum of such assessed valuation, and has not since been reduced to less than such per centum, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation. The city of Philadelphia, upon the conditions hereinafter set forth, may increase its indebtedness to the extent of three per centum in excess of seven per centum upon such assessed valuation for the specific purpose of providing for all or any of the following purposes,—to wit: For the construction and improvement of subways, tunnels, railways, elevated railways, and other transit facilities; for the construction and improvement of wharves and docks and for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves and docks, owned or to be owned by said city. Such increase, however, shall only be made with the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, to be held in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of said city of Philadelphia at any time, there shall be excluded from the calculation a credit, where the work resulting from any previous expenditure, for any one or more of the specific purposes hereinabove enumerated shall be yielding to said city an annual current net revenue; the amount of which credit shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment. Such capitalization shall be accomplished by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual current net revenue, at the average rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes, up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount, so to be excluded or allowed as a credit, may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

Incurring indebtedness, for any one, or more, of said purposes of construction, improvement, or reclamation, the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligation at maturity, the payments to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual instalments. Such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred; and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges, as required by section ten of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of such work.
